| 188 | 48 | Bhutto Z.A | If I Am Assassinated | Biographies | Rao Abdur Rashid, a former Director of the Intelligence Bureau of Pakistan, has reported to the Supreme Court of Pakistan that Brigadier Abdul Naeem, a trusted member of the military group which rules Pakistan had the following conversation with him one day about Zulfikar Ali Bhutto, President and Prime Minister of Pakistan until he was deposed in a military coup, put into jail and sentenced to death: Brigadier Abdul Naeem: "Do you think that the army can afford to see Mr. Bhutto back in power?" Rao Abdur Rashid, a trusted Special Secretary to Bhutto, keeps a discreet silence. Brigadier Naeem answers his own question and says: "Obviously it can't". Before departing, Brigadier Naeem advises Rao Abdur Rashid: "Please cooperate with the army". |

| 173 | 33 | Burlingame R | Scientists Behind The Inventions | Biographies | This conversation sums up the dire threat that hangs on the head of Mr. Bhutto "in this narrow, dark, sinking death cell, where I am confined 22 or 23 hours every day." This is how Bhutto describes what has been his residence for almost a year in the District Jail, Rawalpindi. Bhutto has appealed to the Supreme Court against the death sentence passed on him by the Lahore High Court on an allegedly political murder under his instructions when he was in power. The Supreme Court has concluded the hearings and reserved judgment. |

Sent from his native India to study at the finest school in Britain, the charismatic youth was groomed for the messianic role of World Teacher--a mantle he would ultimately cast off, unleashing a storm of controversy within the spiritual community. And through inner doubts and physical agony--through bitter trials of the mind, the body, and the soul--he would follow his own path to enlightenment and become a shining beacon of joy and truth to millions the world over. |
